

EXHIBITION CHECKLIST

Saratoga Arts is pleased to present Progressions, a collaborative eight-week exhibition, featuring the work of three prominent local women artists; Mia Westerlund Roosen, Caroline Ramersdorfer, and Dorothy Dehner.

When we consider the act of progressing as a forward or onward movement, passing successively from one thing to the next, it describes well the creative process across various art forms. How chords or melodic tones follow each other, evolutions of dance steps strung together across the floor, or transitions from preparatory sketches to finished works of art; they all follow a series of unique progressions which can hold as much beauty and interest as the finished pieces themselves.

Mia Westerlund Roosen, Caroline Ramersdorfer, and Dorothy Dehner have all worked and lived within an hour of Saratoga Arts for large periods of their careers and have often created monumental works in cement, marble, and metal. This exhibition allows us to see aspects of how each artist approaches their work with examples of drawings, prints, models, maquettes, and large-scale sculpture. Some of the work has never been publicly shown before. This exhibition is made possible by the generous collaborations of Betty Cunningham Gallery and The Tang Teaching Museum.
