

Lisa David, Artist Bio

Residing in upstate New York, artist Lisa David paints memories. She spent her childhood in the suburb of Saratoga County, Clifton Park. She recalls fond memories of her family camping in the Adirondacks. Much of her work depicts vintage items and simple pleasures from her youth. Lisa works from life and from photographs she meticulously orchestrates. She uses light and shadows to give her objects importance and reverence. Lisa achieves a high degree of realism by using small brush strokes and nuances of bold colors. Currently, she is pursuing plein air painting (painting outside on location). She is receiving awards for her outdoor paintings done on location. Lisa teaches advanced drawing and painting at her alma mater, Shenendehowa High School. She also teaches at the Saratoga Arts Center. Lisa's work can be found online at www.lisadavidart.com. She is also represented by Spa Fine Art, on Broadway, downtown Saratoga.
