

Karen Gerstenberger- Biography

Karen attended the University at Albany and studied painting and printmaking, receiving a Master's degree in Fine Arts. She followed up her art education with an additional degree in nursing.

Originally specializing in lithography, she has recently been working in watercolor and linocut relief prints.

She lives and works in upstate New York, where she grew up, finding endless inspiration in her local neighborhood.